

Thread

Thread has a tendency to dry out. Many people keep their thread in a container in the fridge. I would not have room in my fridge for all the thread I buy.

Several years ago I was told to use Sewers Aid.

About once a week I take Sewers Aid and draw a thin line down my thread and massage it into the thread. It will leave a discolored look but will not harm the thread and will dry clear. This adds moisture back into the thread. In many cases this will prevent annoying thread breakage.

It also has many other advantages:

Apply Sewers Aid to spool and bobbin thread, it will lubricate the thread guides and tension as it passes through machine for smoother sewing.

Apply Sewers Aid to machine needle for smoother sewing - knits and sheer fabrics can be sewn more easily and it helps prevent skip stitching.

Apply Sewers Aid to scissors for easier cutting.
